Why Clothing Dislikes Blaine.

It was in 1866 that Roscoe Conkling refused to give way to Mr. Blaine on the floor of the House, saying, in his characteristically insolent way: "No sir; I do not wish to have anything to do with the monster from Maine, not even so much as to yield him the floor." Mr. Blaine replied as follows: "As to the gentleman's sarcasm, I hope he will not be too severe. The contempt of that large-minded gentleman is so witting; his haughty disdain, his grandiloquent swell, his majestic supercilious over-powering turk'y gobbler strut, has been so crushing to myself and all the members of this House, that I know it was an act of the greatest temerity on my part to venture upon controversy with him. But, sir, I know who is responsible for all this. I know that within the last five weeks, as members of the House will recollect, an extra strut has characterized his bearing. It is not his fault. It is the fault of another. That wifed and satirical writer, Theodore Tilton, of the New York Independent, spent some weeks recently in this city. His letters to that paper embraced, with many serious statements, a little jocose satire, a part of which was the statement that the mantle of the late Winter Davis had fallen upon the member from New York. The gentleman took it seriously, and it has given him an additional pomposity. The resemblance is great. It is striking. Hyperion to a Satyr, Thesaurus to Hercules, mud to marble, dunghill to diamond, a saged cat to a Bengal tiger, a whining puppy to a roaring lion. Shades of the mighty Davis! Forgive the almost profanity of that jocular satire."

Colonel, the O'Gorman Mahon.

From the N. Y. Sun.

The grievance under which the ladies suffer by the wretched accommodation afforded them in the House of Commons will be made the subject of discussion at the instance of Colonel the O'Gorman Mahon. The ladies could not find a master champion. The gallant Colonel belongs to the old school—a very old school, be it said—of extravagant chivalry and elaborate courtesy. He is to-day the most remarkable man in the House. Fifty-one years ago he was sent to Parliament by his present constituency. He played an important part in the memorable Clare election in 1828, when he was the proposer of O'Connor. Every part of the globe he has been connected with stirring political events. At one time he was Commander-in-Chief of the Peruvian army. At another he figured as Admiral in the service of the Chilianas. Now, in his old age he has reappeared, a veritable Rip Van Winkle, and delights the younger generation by whom he is surrounded by recitals of his experiences, and, strange to say, he still preserves a bold and military carriage, and is as full of animation as the youngest of his colleagues. His memory for dates is somewhat impaired, but he fixes the period for dates by saying: "It was about the time I shot so-and-so," for the gallant Colonel was a noted duelist and dead shot.

A Fight Between Army Officers

From the Arizona Democrat.

A duel was fought at Fort Douglas, Utah, on March 26th, in which Capt. Western and Surgeon Leconte were principals.

The duel arose over a lady—the pretty, high-tempered wife of one of the officers of the post. While the officers and their ladies were dining one day, Dr. Leconte, awkwardly stepped on her dress and received a sharp rebuke for it, whereupon he apologized. Capt. Western was drawn into the quarrel which ensued, and he and the Surgeon were placed in antagonism, and it became noticed about that a challenge to fight a duel had been issued, and that shooting would grow out of the affair the first time they met. After matters had reached this stage both went armed and on their guard, and after a word or two, they both drew their revolvers and fired.

The Captain's shot passed through the Doctor's right hand and entered his side, while the Surgeon's bullet missed its mark. At the next fire the Surgeon's shot shattered the Captain's arm, and the next entered the Captain's side. The Captain fell, and the Doctor, whose pistol hand was wounded, discontinued the duel since that time Captain Western has been practically incapacitated for duty.

"Glad to see you up so early," said the young lady boarder in the country, as she encountered the "handsome man" in her morning walk; "the early bird catches the worm." And to her confusion he innocently answered, "I didn't know they were catching, harm."—Meriden Recorder.

Wrinkled Faces.

It is a painful sight to see young ladies in their teens with wrinkled and prematurely old faces; nevertheless, it is quite common, and to any one who observes this tendency, the time the reason is very apparent. The cause of aging is the loss of elasticity, which causes the skin to lose its firmness, and the name of eminent physicians and chemists, the unsuspecting and credulous have been induced to use some of the so-called liquid beauty tonics, and which are known to be positively injurious, and if used, are apt to do more harm than good, as the result will destroy the complexion, so that it will be next to impossible to restore it. Mothers should be very careful to see that their daughters do not use these preparations, but ask for and obtain Slaters' Lotion to emit Face Powder with oil, harmless beautifier. Face Powder is sold at Osburn & Shoemaker.

Answer this Question.

Why do so many people we see around us, seem to prefer old and worn-out men to young, accomplished ones? Dr. L. L. Lovins, Apothecary, Coming out of the Food, allow skin, for 75 cts we will sell them shillings' Vitalizer, guaranteed to cure them?—Osburn & Shoemaker, Drugstore.

THE SAINTS.

We have had an ocean of words poured over the Mormon question, and mountains of promises have been made for the people to look at. Nothing has been done. From President to politicians the Utah system of prostitution has been called "a festering sore," "an ulcer," "a foul blot upon the National honor," and so on. Men have made faces at Mormonism from the time Joseph Smith collected his band of sensualists at Nauvoo until now, when the indulgence of the vilest passion has gained thousands of followers, and an empire in the centre of this continent has been devoted to prostitution. Polygamy is the political phrase but it is entirely a misnomer, and the time is ripe for scratching the paint from the faces of these hypocrites and cleansing out the swine pens of Utah. "Festering sores" require radical treatment, an ulcer should be cauterized or subjected to the knife, and a foul blot either on the honor of an individual or nation should be wiped out. It is usually removed by the point of the sword, and the sentiment which hesitates to treat Mormonism radically and effectually is not in sympathy with sound public policy or good morals. The assertion that the Saints are merely following their religious beliefs is a lie as black as the heart of sensuality itself. The civilization of the ages has all tended toward the creation of the modern home, and all enlightened thought has approved it. Utah is a festering sore, it is time that law and policy should either cure or kill the sick man.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Several exchanges are hugging themselves over Kearney's downfall. If Kearney is down why don't you let him stay there. He was raised once by predictions of his downfall, and the best way to get up another boom for him is to tell how much his fall hurt him. Without the information furnished him by the hostile newspapers Kearney would have cut his political throat with the knife of ignorance long ago.

The Carson Appeal philosopher muses after this fashion: D. O. Mills began life a poor man, yet he managed to save five million dollars, thereby enabling his daughter to marry an editor. With a father who is patient, industrious and saving there is hope for every girl in America—with five million dollars—to wed a newspaper man.

The papers are very much agitated over McCullough's visit to London. They don't know whether he has succeeded or not. If he doesn't he will probably pay for it, and if he does he will take the credit for it. How does that strike you?

The Salt Lake Tribune recommends the encouragement of saloons, billiard halls, and other resorts of similar nature, as the surest and best means of breaking up the Mormon Church. Experience don't approve of the plan.

A San Francisco exchange says that the vilest thing on earth is a played-out political fraud. He probably regards an unplayed political fraud as an entirely different matter.

The Silver State is in tears. That paper now learns that Secretary Robert Lincoln will spend the winter in Rye Beach instead of Rye Patch as the State at first believed.

Somebody ought to issue a circular inviting the cooperation of all news-papers in abusing Mrs. Kate Chase Sprague. That woman has been let alone entirely too long.

H. B. Loomis, the old reliable or-guessing, nail-counting, date-giving reporter of the Comstock is on a Stockton paper.

The Free Lance publishes a story about a drunken mose. Rufus, you had better let the natural history alone.

PERSONAL.

F. Hines, of Banner Mill, is at the Arcade.

D. B. Nye, the well-known traveler, is in Reno.

Dr. Dawson has gone to Sierra valley, to attend Mrs. H. E. E.

Judge Huisker, from Kentucky, will locate for the practice of law in Reno.

R. Drought, Jerry Whitehead, and other Wadsworthians, came up on Saturday last to attend Lodge.

Chief Justice Leonard, of the Supreme Court, was in Reno last night and went to Carson this morning.

Cyrus C. Chapman, for some years a traveler for Surrance, Stanley & Co., San Francisco, died recently in Arizona.

E. W. Hopkins, Treasurer of the C. P. R. R., went east this morning. He goes to Michigan to attend the golden wedding of his father and mother.

Detective O. T. Brown wears a nest scar on his left temple which he received in a hand to hand scuffle with three men in Sierras Valley, who attempted to club the officer.

W. A. Lawson is installed on the Marysville Appeal and says he will consider it as a favor if citizens possessed of news will not stand on the order of an introduction, but stop and hand him down with items.

Returned.

Harcy Clawson has returned from California and with every confidence that Dr. Lane has discovered the seat of his illness and provided the remedy. As usual Clawson brings a curiosity with him. This time it is a silver and blue Scotch terrier. At present the youngster looks like a dirty bass ball but when grown his head will be silver colored and his body blue.

ROBBERS RECAPTURED.

The Truckee Car Robbers Make a Short Stay in Reno.

Yester morning detectives Hickey, Burke and Brisell recaptured in Reno, Davidson Reed and H. C. Coleman who escaped from Constable Reed of Truckee, on Thursday night April 28th. The men had been held after examination in Truckee for car robbery, in the sum of $2,000 each, to answer before the Superior Court of Nevada county. On Sunday, April 24th, the same two prisoners attempted to break jail at Truckee, and upon examination were also held in $2,000 each to answer a charge of jail breaking. Officer Reed was conveying the two named, together with Ah Sam, also held for car robbery, to Nevada City. Soon after the train left Emigrant Gap, it was found that Reed and Coleman were missing and search was immediately commenced. Detective Hickey and Constable Reed found the trail about 8 a. m., and followed the escapees into Bear valley. Reed was sent back to Truckee and Hickey was joined by detectives Burke and Brisell. The detectives soon became convinced that the fugitives were coming to Reno, and accordingly they came here on No. 5 yesterday morning. As the train was passing Bragg's lumber yard, Burke saw a brown hat sticking up from a pile of lumber. The officers dismounted in short order and there were Messrs. Reed and Coleman shadowing the train. The prisoners say that Reed was very much fatigued and went to sleep and they walked away. It is but justice to Detective Hickey to say that he did not have charge of the prisoners, nor was he in the car when they escaped. The prisoners refused to return without a requisition, and the officers are waiting for that document. The officers identify Reed as an old con.

The Odest Man.

The GAZETTE recently published a note telling of the death of Michael Lane, born in 1758, and supposed to be the oldest man in the world. A Verdi correspondent writes to say:

"You are in error in regard to his having been a body servant to General M. reer. He belonged to and was the body servant of General Washington, was with him on that memorable boat ride on the Delaware, and held him in his arms when he died. I was well acquainted with him, having known him from his childhood. His father was a powerful African Chief. Samuel was stolen when six and one-half years old and sold to an American slaver, who gave him to G. W.'s father."

The cool way in which this Verdi man elbows Lane out of the way and sets himself up as the oldest man, is a fine illustration of Verdi cheek. The objection, however, is not well taken. The local editor happens to know that Verdi liar, and held him in his arms long before Washington was born.

District Court.

In the case of Lee, executor, vs. Munroe et al, the time for filing a statement on motion for a new trial was extended ten days, and a stay of execution was granted to and including May 10th. The case of Lake vs. the Reno Savings Bank was argued and submitted. In the case of State ex rel Rankin vs. Leete, it was ordered that the Clerk transmit a copy of all papers to the Supreme Court. In the matter of the estate of R. H. Crocker deceased, it was ordered that the sale then advertised be postponed for 30 days. Court adjourned for term.

All On Account.

When the Soldene troupe arrived Saturday night on their way East, a gentleman applied for a room for two at one of Reno's principal hotels. The landlord said he could give him a room with two beds in it. "Yes," said he, "but you see I'm married, and I want a whole room with a bed in it." and then he sang softly: "I've been bitten by snakes and craddles too often all on account of Enza."

From Greenville.

Joe arrived from Greenville this morning with several passengers and a load of hides. He brought with him about fifty deer skins and several antlers. Joe says that game is very plentiful in Indian Valley. He has seen from 12 to 20 in one herd in the valley. The citizens are fast repairing their losses occasioned by the fire. Pechner's barber shop and two blacksmith shops are already replaced. The country is looking well and Joe will probably make another trip.

Worth Preserving.

The GAZETTE has issued ten thousand pocket time cards for the trains between San Francisco and Virginia City. They are being distributed all over the Coast among people who travel. They are of a convenient size to be carried in the pocket book, and are well worth preserving. They give the leaving time at stations. Any who desire copies will be supplied.

Various road matters were before the Board this afternoon. Sheriff Walker presented a petition to the Board signed by many taxpayers, praying that he be allowed a jailor.

Hopper Horoscope.

W. H. Fogg says that some of the ranchers hope to get rid of any material damage from the hoppers by rushing the first crop and delaying the second. They think with the season's help they can cut the first crop and by not providing food drive them to seek relief elsewhere. The plan will hardly work, the best hopper experts believe they will get the first crop and after that comes a blank.

Verdi News.

The Katz & Henry mill is running at full blast.

The Verdi planing mill is running night and day and Sundays in order to fill orders.

A. Grazier of Verdi, recently came from Jamison to Verdi via Sierra valley. He reports the roads good, but not as dry in some parts of the valley as might be wished.

Judge Borman reports a large amount of legal stagnation in Verdi.

Railroad Changes.

L. M. Clements, one of the pioneer railroad men of this coast, has left the Central Pacific to take the office of Chief Engineer of the Atlantic and Pacific, which will build along the 35th parallel. He will take J. M. Graham with him. W. G. Curtis, Division Superintendent on the Southern Pacific, succeeds Mr. Clements as Superintendent of Track. A man from Saucito goes on the Southern in Mr. Curtis' place.

Sleeping Car Runs.

There are four sleeping cars on the run from Oakland to Carson, and 18 from Oakland to Ogden. The porters on the through run have each their own car, but two men run the four to Carson. A while ago the men run the rounds, as they call it, and no one had the same car two trips in succession, but it was found to be better for each to have his own car and take care of it.

Asylum Plans.

At a meeting of the Board of Insane Asylum Commissioners Saturday, in Carson, the plans of Haist and MacKay, of Virginia, were adopted. Bid will be advertised for to erect the building within the amount appropriated by the last Legislature.

CEDAR DISTRICT.

An Expert Visits the New Mines.

Mr. Neuenschwander visited Cedar district last week, to satisfy himself regarding to the reports which have found currency concerning the new find. The locations are four miles northeast of Deep Wells and are seven in number. There are three parallel veins which can be traced for a distance of two miles, and every place where the vein has been prospected, it has proved to be of the same character. The ore carries copper, silver and free gold. In one place a shaft has been sunk 25 feet, in another 10 feet.

Assays have gone as high as $4,200, besides the copper, and some of it contains 75 per cent. copper. Wherever the ledge could be traced, it has been claimed and Mr. Neuenschwander thinks the prospect very favorable. He has had considerable experience in mining matters and believes that the parallel veins above mentioned will be found to come together at no great depth.

Turf Echoes.

Maud S. is exercising on the roads around Cincinnati, Ohio.

Fringe, the trotter, has been bought by John Spian for $6,000.

Ten Brook has not been bought by J. R. Keane for $70,000.

Santa Claus, the trotting wonder of the Pacific slope, is going East.

Turfmen of San Francisco claim that St. Julien will beat 2:10 this season.

English book-makers are betting £1,000 to £20 that P. Lorillard's Barrett will not win the Derby.

W. H. Vanderbilt has decided that Maud S. shall trot again against time this season, and an effort will be made to surpass all previous records.

J. M. French, of Detroit, a good judge of a trotter, and owner of Cozette, record 2:19, was the purchaser of Patchen for $2,450 at the combination sale in New York.

As a result of clipping Maud S., she looks so mean that the other day a pair of gypsies in Cincinnati refused to swap their gray "plug" for her unless the darky who was exercising Mandie would give $20 to boot.

J. Keene's Marshall McDonald and Mr. P. Lorillard's Barrett and Santa, three-year-olds, have been entered for the Horse Heath Stakes, last five furlongs of the Buxbury mile to be run during the New Market July meeting, this year, and also in the Singleton Stakes, run over the new mile, at Goodwood, on the 29th of July next.

The Electric Light in New York.

"Gath," in a late letter, says there are six electric-light companies operating in New York, with a combined capital of about $6,000,000. They abuse each other, and yet are doing tolerably well. The riches is the United States Company, which was the first in the field, and has lighted the principal banking houses and railroad offices, several of the hotels and theaters, and the New York postoffice and Hudson river tunnel. Then comes the Brush Company, which lights a number of the larger beer gardens, the Sound steamers and the Coney Island hotels. It has a moderate capital of only $100,000. The Edison Company starts out with $2,000,000 of capital, and it claims to have orders to light several large cities. Edison, the inventor, is president. Then the Weston Company with $1,000,000 capital, has lighted several composing rooms of newspapers, rope walks, newspaper offices, slaughter houses and factories. The Fuller Company has a capital of $200,000, and has principally lighted factories. August Belmont is in this company. The Eastern Company, of Connecticut, uses the Sawyer system, and has $200,000 capital. The Central Company is also doing a growing business. The effect of Broadway lighted by night is that of a great multitude of people turned out to see a ghost, the atmosphere being blue, the shadows long, and everything suggestive of the City of Peter Schlemihl.

Nihilistic.N. Y. Sun.

Some of the Nihilists, who are known as "Federalists," have drawn up a scheme of reorganization which they propose to bring forward after the destruction of the present political regime. According to this scheme Russia would be split up into a number of small free States, which would be only connected with each other by a Congress and a President, like the United States of North America. Small and self-government communal States are, they say, the primitive Russian political life; it was only Ivan the Terrible and his successors who, with the help of the Tartars, created the present centralized and autocratic empire. Such a scheme would, it is believed, find favor with many members of the constitutional party who feel the difficulty of governing a nation of 80,000,000 of people by a single central Parliament, and also with some of the "old Russians," who dream of establishing, in opposition to the civilization of the West, an improved civilization based on the institutions of ancient Russia.

A Year Without a Summer.

In the year 1816 there was a sharp frost in every month. It was known as the "year without a summer." The farmers used to refer to it as "eighteen hundred and starve to death." In May ice formed half an inch thick, buds and flowers were frozen and corn killed. Frost, ice and snow were common in June. Almost every green thing was killed, and the fruit was nearly all destroyed. Snow fell to a depth of three inches in New York and Massachusetts, and ten inches in Maine. July was accompanied with frost, and ice was formed of the thickness of window glass in New York, New England and Pennsylvania. In August ice formed half an inch thick. A cold northern wind prevailed nearly all summer. Corn was so frozen that a great deal was cut down and dried for fodder. Very little ripened in New England, and scarcely any in the Middle States. Farmers were obliged to pay $4 or $5 a bushel for corn of 1813 for seed for the next spring's planting.

MIDDLE-AGED MEN.

There are many at the age of thirty and sixty who are troubled with too frequent evasions of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight swelling or burning sense and a weakening of the system in various parts of the body. On examining the urinary deposit aropy sediment will often be found, and some small particles of albumen will appear, or the color will be of a thin milky hue,渐渐 changing to a dark and reddish brown. This is the first symptom of this difficulty, ignorant of the cause which is the second stage of seminal weakness. Dr. S. will guarantee a perfect cure in all such cases, and a healthy restoration of the generative organs.
